FAQs

We understand the challenges of school travel and recommend arriving 30 minutes before the show starts to allow time for travel disruption and to use the facilities before settling into your seats.

What happens when we arrive?

A member of the Old Royal Naval College staff will check your e-ticket as you enter the building before directing you to the Painted Hall. The performance space will open 15 minutes before the show starts at 10:30.

Seating is unreserved - our team and the cast will help your group to get settled in.

Do my pupils need to be quiet during the show?

Please don't feel that your class must watch the show in silence, we want your pupils to be comfortable and enjoy the performance.

What happens if we are running late?

Late arrivals: due to the nature of the performance, late admittance may not be possible. If you are running late, please contact us on 020 8269 4753 to let us know as soon as possible.

Can we eat or drink in the Painted Hall?

Except for bottled water, no food or drink can be consumed in the Painted Hall during the show. There is a café in the King William Undercroft where food and drink may be purchased.

What happens after the show?

We love to hear what pupils and teachers thought about the shows – please do fill out our quick post-show surveys (we'll email it to you), and feel free to send us feedback by emailing info@ornc.org

Tweet your thoughts and pictures to @orncgreenwich if you're happy to share.
