

WEDDINGS AT OLD ROYAL NAVAL COLLEGE

PREPARE TO FALL IN LOVE AND HAVE YOUR DREAM WEDDING COME TO LIFE

When hosting your wedding at Old Royal Naval College, yourself and your guests will be immersed in history, dating as far back as the Tudors here on the original grounds of Henry VIII's Tudor Palace.

The Painted Hall, created between 1708–27 by Sir James Thornhill, is often described as 'the Sistine Chapel of the UK' and the "finest dining hall in Europe". It confers abundant prestige and elegance for your wedding celebration.

Your wedding day is a one-of-a-kind experience that deserves a venue like no other. The moment you enter the Painted Hall, you will know that you have found such a venue. Exquisite paintings by Sir James Thornhill soar to the lofty ceiling of a room that always inspires awe and wonder.

We have carefully selected three caterers who understand that attention to detail, care and honouring tradition in any way you choose. Each team has been approved to work within our World Heritage Site and will be the only speciality caterers available to you. Additionally, their team will assist you with your quotation for all food, beverage, cutlery, crockery, glassware, linen and staffing.

Each step of your day has been carefully thought out for you to enjoy and make memories to last a lifetime. Although our packages have been designed to cover all elements of your big day, please use them as a guide as they can be adapted and made bespoke to you.

KING SOLOMON'S
CATERING

KING SOLOMON

Head Chef, Solomon Quartey, has always had a passion for food, in his late teens Solomon entered a catering competition in Ghana and won a prestigious scholarship to study Culinary Art. The scholarship entailed spending three months each in the UK, Canada and Australia, which gave him an invaluable education in professional catering and an incredible life experience. Back in Ghana, he was snapped up by a local restaurant, working his way up before being headhunted by the Ghanaian High Commission to become their in-house chef, managing all the catering for local and visiting dignitaries. Solomon was asked to relocate to London to continue to work as Head Chef for the Ghanaian High Commission.

He challenges the misconceptions of Afro-Caribbean food stereotypes, experimenting with Pan Asian fusions and coming up with fresh, appealing and innovative ways to serve the traditional, beloved dishes he grew up with. Even an exceptionally talented chef is only as good as the ingredients they work with, and Solomon ensures that King Solomon's Catering uses the freshest foods from the finest produce and meat markets in London.
